Watch and Win!

There will be plenty of excitement to go around January 1 for viewers of the Chamber's Comcast Channel 17.

In addition to a whole new look that premieres that day, the first viewers will have an opportunity to register for prizes just for watching.

Those business owners who want to receive free promotion in the first month of the new station may call Pitt to arrange to donate a prize.

"We believe the new programming will create a lot of excitement in the county," said John Pitt, president of the Davis Chamber.

"In addition to increased coverage of Davis events and places, there will be a host of other new offerings from movies and cartoons to documentaries about Davis County and other places in Utah," he said. "We're also planning a series of programs that feature area businesses."

Those who do not have Comcast cable television may watch the new Davis Channel 17 on their personal computers. Just go to www.Davischannel17.com.

One of the first events to receive added promotion on the station will be the Business to Business Expo set for February 26, 2009, Pitt said.

"Everyone will want to be sure and attend the expo and say 'I want to be a star' will be interviewed for a program we're making to air on the station."

Pitt will host a show titled Crowd Surfing at the expo. This show has aired occasionally on the station in the past but will now become a frequent addition.

"Sometimes the show can be funny," Pitt said.

"But don't worry, I won't embarrass you too bad."
